MY Opinion: 8.5-10 . A great indie,casual\puzzle game with a nice music blend. Done well.

Pros:

Great Sountrack.

Easy to pick up.

Great replayability (Better with friends).

Cool stylized art style.

Cool Concept.

Local play (YES CONTROLLER SUPPORT :D!)

Great Price.

Cons: (That i can live with)

No Ai to play against as far as im aware of.

No leaderboards

No Online play. Fun puzzle game!

At first, the blocks go down in a very chill way, but the speed of the blocks will be in time higher, which makes the game harder. There is a way to make the blocks go slower, but this is not endless, which makes that at least I had to play on a really hard mode sometime, not being able to slow down the blocks for some time. After some time, it was possible again. :)

I really do like the concept of the game. :)

Also, who would give a game such name? Very funny. :P

If you have a Mac, like me, I recommend playing it on Windows. I didn't get my achievements while playing on Mac, I thought I read something about this that this is normal, not getting achievements on the Mac. So if you do like achievements, I recommend playing on Windows. Then you get the ones you deserve (AFTER you achieve them again)! :D

I recommend this puzzle game!. Pros:

+great soundtrack

+familiar, challenging, interesting

+nice aesthetics

Cons:

-no means of building a strategy, which takes away from the puzzle aspect of it

-rotating the planet (the crux of the game) isn't smooth with the keyboard. its a little better with the mousewheel. havent tried the gamepad just yet but I'm hoping that's the smoothest.

my biggest gripe with this game is that there's no intuitive\smooth way to rotate the planet...which is the main control mechanic. It's not unplayable, just frustrating, and requires the player to have extreme finesse with keystrokes\mousewheels. You know what would make it better? click & drag to rotate, spacebar to drop

Unlike tetris, this game requires you to be precise with 2 aspects when placing blocks: rotation and gravity, whereas tetris just has the gravity aspect. this is a curse and a blessing because while it adds a layer of complexity, it also adds a layer of frustration if you've lined up a great match, but move your mousewheel up a tiny bit, making the whole move useless. it's similar to the feeling in tetris when you slam down a stick piece only to have it be off by 1 block and instead of racking up points, you now have a mess to clean up. HOWEVER, in tetris, that's 100% your fault. in this game, other factors like mouse wheel sensitivity and randomization come into play. combine that with no indicator of whats coming next, and sometimes this game feels a bit unfair. Less intellect based, and more luck\reflexes.

Would be a much better game if they had at least the option to have an incoming drop indicator, to adapt to different play styles

I can't say that this is my favourite puzzle game, or that I'll even go back to it very often. but I definitely feel like the pricepoint is fair. It's a challenge, that's for sure. just sometimes not for all the right reasons.. Really nice game, I would highly recommend it. Interesting approach to gameplay. Lots of fun and great music too!. QbQbQb feels like one of those different puzzle games that tries something new.. In this case, players must clear blocks either by stacking three on top of one another, matching three that are next to each other, or even matching two that are across from each other. The twist (literally) is that the blocks fall onto a circular playing field and you have to direct them by spinning the planet. It's a very fun action puzzler and an addicting one too.. The music is also catchy and gets better depending on how good you're playing, which I love.. :) ..Only complaint is that there's no vs CPU option but it doesn't bother me that much..

. Combination of tetris meets match 3. Great for a casual 15 minute coffee break. The music and lo-fi graphics are pleasant and accelerate as the game progresses.. I love this game! Hoping for more levels and music.... I played this game when I had my wisdom teeth removed. I had a blast! Even sober this game is silly and charming. The karaoke in the main menu was a wonderful touch.. It's a game about a tiny eternal being rescuing planets by matching colored blocks. The way it deals with the blocks on a circular plane is pretty creative, actually, and I can see myself having a lot of fun with this.

A wonderful game, with amazing music, addicting gameplay, and a simple childlike charm to it, I love this game. It's like a mix between Tetris and bejeweled.. this game is the best tetris reboot ever!!!!!! it's sooooooo hard in the way that you have to flip your brain to match things Dr.Mario style but you need to move around a planet to match and it's fast. the goal is to get all the planets by collecting 1000 points on the previous planet. to get points you can place blocks or remove a set of blocks (each gives you one point per block) if you remove sets then you get X2 then X3 ect, on whatever you do for the next roughly 4 seconds. over all 9/10. Wonderful soundtrack. I just love singing with the Karaoke in the beginning. The game itself is truly amazing and quite easy to understand. I figured out how to play in the first 5 minutes. It's easy at first but it gets harder later in-game. There are different modes to help you out if you don't like one. If you don't like a mode, try the next!

Did I mention there's an epic soundtrack?. Super cute game, great sound, creative game play, highly recommended!. LET ME BUY THE SOUNDTRACK ALREADY. Pretty awesome simple little arcade game, loads quick and has a great soundtrack so is a great thing to play when waiting or bored.. This game has all the things it shouldn't have:

\u2022 A lot of exploding and flying stuff.

\u2022 A lot of things happening without clear reason (I feel like sometimes blocks are disappearing, and maybe appearing on their own)

\u2022 Toys - what is this even for?

\u2022 Twitter support

\u2022 Lifes

While lacking things the game like this should have:

\u2022 Online scoreboard

\u2022 Decent help

\u2022 Clear rules

\u2022 A tutorial?

Basically its dr. mario with so much twists and effects that it's no longer easy to pick-up.. I don't know if it's just me or what, but it seems I got ripped off from steam again! Man, who puts a trailer of a gameplay with voice and all and then you play this game and realise IT'S JUST THE DAMN MENU! the rest of the game doesn't have voice in the musics, just that boring background song.... I want my money back.... ;-;. YAWN!! What a boring game, its an even more boring version of tetris. I think the other review is from the guy who created it because its all wrong! I did not like this game at all, I've since deleted it.. Cube and Star: An Arbitrary Love and Luxuria Supurbia had a baby.
